

AUTHOR • STORYTELLER • NORTH COUNTRY VOICE

Erica R. Buteau

Small towns. Deep stories.

Fiction, nonfiction, historical curiosity and a body of work rooted in northern New Hampshire.

THE WRITER BEHIND THE WORK

Erica is a writer, research-minded storyteller, and founder of Stearns Brook Press. Her projects move between atmospheric North Country romantic suspense, practical nonfiction, books for younger readers, and narratives shaped by place, family, resilience and curiosity.

OFFICIAL AUTHOR & MEDIA HEADSHOT

● FICTION

Romantic suspense and character-driven stories

● NONFICTION

Lived experience, research and practical guidance

● INDEPENDENT PUBLISHING

Stearns Brook Press and creative entrepreneurship

Writing & series

Selected writing worlds and subject areas. Individual book details, editions, manuscripts and rights information are available for appropriate inquiries.

OI

Androscoggin After Dark

NORTH COUNTRY ROMANTIC SUSPENSE

An atmospheric four-book series in which small towns keep secrets and the river holds the rest.
Series information: androscogginafterdark.com

O2

The Wildwood Diaries

STORIES WITH HEART AND HISTORY

A character-driven literary project whose book and series materials can be discussed separately.

O3

Legacy Acres Little Farm Stories

CHILDREN'S STORIES

Farm-based stories that connect real-life routines, curiosity and the next generation.

O4

Nonfiction & practical guides

RESEARCH MEETS LIVED EXPERIENCE

Writing about family, grief, resilience, home, rural life and navigating complicated seasons.

Press, rights & inquiries

An invitation for thoughtful publishing partnerships—separate from the commercial advertising and sponsorship media kit.

SELECTED MEDIA & COMMENTARY

National and regional coverage includes TODAY, Women's Health, BBC News Magazine, and North Country print and radio. Recent writing includes columns and letters published by The Berlin Sun, with additional pieces in the New Hampshire Union Leader and Concord Monitor.

Browse the press archive ↗

LITERARY OPPORTUNITIES

Conversations welcome with literary agents, publishers, editors, audio producers, international-rights teams, and adaptation partners. Availability of specific manuscripts, editions, and subsidiary rights must be confirmed for each title.

AVAILABLE FOR INTERVIEWS

Author interviews • book and literary conversations • independent publishing • North Country storytelling • research and lived experience • selected events and podcasts

INQUIRE ABOUT THE NEXT CHAPTER

For publishing, representation, rights and literary press inquiries, include the relevant project and the opportunity you would like to discuss.

erica@ericabuteau.com